

SIR EDGAR SPEYER, great Yondon banker, has just arrived in the United States, a baronet in spite of himself. He can't get rid of his title. He may drop it and ask his friends and the public to forget it, but the British government will not forget. Once you get a British title it will stick until death. Some of them stick so they descend to posterity. The baronet is of the great German banking family of Frankfort-on-the-Main. His brother, James Speyer, is of the head of one of the greatest banking houses in the United States, if not in the world.

WASHINGTON STATE IS PLANNING MONSTER LOYALTY EXPRESSION

SEATTLE, June 18.—The entire state of Washington is planning a great demonstration of loyalty to President Wilson. Tacoma will celebrate tomorrow, Seattle on Tuesday and Spokane on Wednesday. Seattle is most enthusiastic over the plans, which include a monster mass meeting at noon in a downtown theater, at which all will sing "The Star Spangled Banner" to the chorus of "We're With You, Woodrow Wilson."

Soldiers and sailors will represent Fort Lawson and Bremerton navy yard in the parade. As the cruiser South Dakota enters Elliott Bay she will fire a presidential salute of twenty-one guns.

SOCIETY in Newport, Washington, New York and some of the capitals of Europe will be intensely interested in the news of the sudden marriage of Jean H. E. St. Cyr, a natty young society man of twenty-eight, and Mrs. Annie Armstrong Smith, widow of "Silent" Smith, a New York broker, who was believed to have left something like $40,000,000 when he died some years ago. This is the second elderly and wealthy widow the young man has married.

BRITAIN TRIES TO 'BEAT AMERICA TO IT' BEFORE SEA TRAFFIC NOTE COMES

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Great Britain hopes to "beat America to it" by answering the original American protest against her sea blockade before the new note protesting against interference with neutral commerce arrives.

Britain hopes to dispute the American claim that the United States trade has suffered through British interference.

The British foreign office will cite Secretary of Commerce Redfield's figures, showing $1,000,000,000 trade balance in favor of America.

Britain will probably attempt to show that although the American-German trade has been stopped, exports to neutral countries are so large that undoubtedly much of the goods exported will ultimately reach Germany.

There is no intimation given as to when Britain's reply will arrive. It certainly will be unsatisfactory to the administration.

President Wilson has ordered the State Department to prepare figures showing the number of American cargoes the British have delayed. He will insist on America's right to a free sea.

The only effect the British note will have will be to slightly delay President Wilson's new protest, it is believed.

Wilson's note will also take up the question of British interference with American mails.

BERLIN, June 18.—The Germans are steadily forcing the Russians back upon Lemberg. It is expected the Russians will attempt a strong resistance from defenses prepared at Grodek.

CENTENARY OF WATERLOO OPENS FIERCE BATTLE

PARIS, June 18.—Today was the centenary of Waterloo. The French developed a tremendous attack against the 200,000 Germans fiercely resisting before Lens.

French artillery, stationed at Souchez, is continuously shelling German forces occupying the ravine.

East of Lorette Hills the Germans are almost surrounded and French infantry are rushing forward through ruined trenches and barbed wire entanglements for a bayonet charge.

The Germans are desperately counter-attacking and hurling grenades.

The capture of Lens would necessitate a general German retreat.

The French Vosges forces are approaching Colmar.

130,000 GERMAN LOSS IN MONTH SAY RUSSIANS

PETROGRAD, June 18.—It is admitted today by the Russian war office that the Teutons have crossed the Dnieper river fifteen miles north of Stanislaw.

It is declared that east of the Stryk the Russians have captured 8000 Germans.

It is declared the Teuton losses in the forty-mile Galicia battle line have aggregated 130,000 in the past month.

GERMANY TO RETALIATE FOR ABUSE OF PRISONERS

BERLIN, June 18.—A semi-official statement this morning declares that despite German representations France has refused to mitigate the treatment of German prisoners in Africa, especially in Dahomey.

It is asserted the Germans are placed in the same cells with negroes, improperly clad and insufficiently nourished and are compelled to perform the hardest kind of manual labor.

In retaliation Germany proposes to employ her French prisoners in cultivating German swamps.

FANO SHELLED BY FLEET OF AUSTRIAN SHIPS

ROME, June 18.—The Austrian fleet has shelled Fano, a famous resort on the Adriatic. The cathedral and its art treasures, together with the triumphal arch erected by Caesar Augustus are in danger.

GERMANS CLAIM BRITISH FORCE ANNIHILATED

BERLIN, June 18.—An official statement claims the annihilation of a British detachment at North Bethune. The British advanced to within a few yards of the trenches. Suddenly the Germans turned loose a hurricane fire of machine guns. The ground was soon thickly strewn with dead and dying.

HERE'S A FISH YARN; YOU CAN BELIEVE IT OR YOU NEED NOT

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 18.—Ed Weisenburger, who alleges himself to be a truthful liquor salesman, today was given the rank of producing the first big fish story of the day.

It was about how he caught a pound pike at fashionable White Bear lake, with his bare hands. Mistaking a sun fish for Jonah, the big pike had apparently attempted to swallow the little sun fish. But a sun fish being constituted in such a manner as not to lend itself to ready swallowing, stuck. It was too big to go down and too prickly to come up. When the pike was all in and evidently wished the sun fish was too, it swam peacefully up to shore, and according to Weisenburger, looked at him appealingly to be caught.

SHE WAS FAIR AND GOOD TO LOOK UPON; AH! THERE! LIL' ONE

OKMULGEE, Okla., June 18.—She was fair and good to behold John Davenport, out-of-town traveling man, gazed upon her admiringly as she tripped along the street.

"Ah there, lil' one," murmured the knight of the grip, in his best tones. But she heeded not.

Undaunted, John followed her, got her street number and then found her telephone number.

Thereupon he called the house.

"Say, I'm that cute little fellow you passed a while ago—brown suit, gray cap, and—"

TWILIGHT SLEEP SUPERSEDED BY TOCANALGINE, NEW FIND

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—"Babies born without respiration and mothers without pain of childbirth are the result of the discovery of Tocanalgin," said Dr. J. A. Ortiz, head of the Civil Maternity Hospital at Santiago de Cuba, in an address at the opening session of the Panama American Medical Congress at the Civil Auditorium.

"Twilight sleep caused low respiration," said Dr. Ortiz, "and consequent danger to the child. Tocanalgin, discovered by a French chemist, and now given to the world by Prof. Ribemont of Paris, allows the child to be born without inhaling any of the drugs. Immediately after birth respiration is produced artificially and the baby is in no danger of after-effects.

BRYAN WAY OUT OF WAR GIVEN TO PUBLIC AS 'MEDIATION'

WASHINGTON, June 18.—W. J. Bryan today issued his third "war statement," headed "The Way Out." It advocates mediation.

Bryan says peace is possible immediately if the belligerents are tired of fighting. He advances an arbitration method including a permanent international investigation committee.

He said peace advocates should cultivate the brotherhood spirit condensed in the quotation, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

"Mediation is a means of international agreement and provides a method whereby belligerents may be brought into conference.

"When President Wilson suggested mediation at the beginning of the war all said, 'We didn't want any war, we are not to blame.'

"Some day the accumulated suffering will reach its limit. Then the war zone leaders will pause and listen to the stern question 'why do we die?'

"Peace sentiment is no coercive force. Neutrals can only offer mediation again and again until it is accepted.

"The trouble has been that while all nations were abundantly supplied with war machinery they were not supplied with the promotion of peace machinery.

"The final work for the peace advocates is the education of the spirit of brotherhood."

U. S. WILL LAND FORCE TO HALT YAQUI RAIDS; 2 AMERICANS WOUNDED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Mexican situation occupied most of the attention of President Wilson and his cabinet today. It is understood the cabinet has agreed to take no steps in the Mexican situation until the warring factions choose some permanent government.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Government officials doubt whether an American landing at Guaymas can be avoided. The situation is admittedly serious. Upon the arrival of the cruiser Colorado a small force will immediately land and march up the Yaqui river valley for a pow-wow with the Indian chief.

"I was sleeping by the Texas border near a road," said Mooney, "when a band of Mexicans came by driving some American cattle. They roped me and told me I was to be shot as a spy. I was carried across the Mexican border, but that night escaped from jail."

MOVIE PICTURES USED TO FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS IS NEW IDEA

NEW YORK, June 18.—In its nation-wide fight against consumption, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has enlisted the aid of the "movie."

"The White Terror," produced by the Universal Film Co., the first shot fired through the new medium, is released today in thirty-eight different cities.

The picture tells a dramatic story in an effective manner and yet emphasizes the vital lesson of prevention of the disease before it becomes incurable.

"The White Terror" describes certain conditions in Everytown and reveals how Boyd, the political boss, controls the industrial, political and social life of the town. His only object in life is money.

Among his many activities Boyd manufactures a fake cure for consumption and when the Clarion, the only newspaper in town, attacks him and his methods Boyd buys the paper's silence.

Matthew Brand, who is in love with Boyd's daughter, buys the Clarion, and goes after the "boss" hammer and tongs. His vigorous attacks on Boyd makes the political boss desperate and he plans to blow up the newspaper office to get rid of Brand. The explosion kills one of Boyd's political henchmen instead of the fearless editor.

At the same time Boyd's daughter

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulished coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulished coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

AMUSEMENTS

At Clune's
"A Lesson in Romance" is a thrilling photoplay, full of heart interest. The love plot is one that appeals to the emotions of all. The scenic background is unusually beautiful, the scenes having been taken in the picturesque Tennessee mountains at Chattanooga and in the beautiful homes of aristocratic southern families.

Richard Walton, a wealthy society man, disgusted with the schemes of all marriageable women to get him into their net because of his wealth and social standing, flees from the city. He goes to the home of his friend, Sidney Wright, who has a beautiful sister. She, however, is romantic and has no use for social lions.

She leaves a note saying she prefers gypsies to society men and goes to her aunt. When Walton discovers she is running away from him he thinks she must be the girl for him and pursues. He kidnaps her and takes her to a gypsy camp, where he poses as the chief of gypsies. After her first anger she falls in with the spirit of adventure and dressing in gypsy costume, tells fortunes.

Finally she tires of it and the climax comes when two women accuse her of stealing a watch. Walton knocks the sheriff down, confiscates an auto and takes the girl home. She has learned to love him, but does not want to marry a gypsy after all.

Great is Emmy's surprise on entering the reception room that evening to find her gypsy in conventional clothes. He begs her to become his gypsy queen for life. She consents.

Other films shown at Clune's are, "Cupid Puts One Over on the Satchel," and "To Save Him From His Wife." The vaudeville features of the bill are attractive. First honors go to Grace Cushman, one of the most original comedienne seen here in some time. Sam Golden's singing and the comedy of Morse and Delannoy are very pleasing.

Temple Theater
One of the best comedies that has ever come to Santa Ana is "Niobe" now being shown at the Temple theater. Anybody missing this show is passing up the best evening's entertainment available.

It is a show that one may easily term "a laugh a minute." Remember that Manager Schlesinger will admit all school children free, accompanied by parents or guardian for tomorrow matinee and Sunday matinee, in order to start the vacation season off right. So all daddies and mamas, don't forget to bring the kiddies.

"A Fool There Was"
Porter Emerson Browne, who has been hailed as "The American dramatist," accomplished his greatest success when he penned his daring, virile drama of a weak man and an unscrupulous vampire-woman, "A Fool There Was" of which the screen version has been made by William Fox, as a Production Extraordinary, released through The Box Office Attraction Company.

It is a picture symphony that strikes all the eight chords of human emotions. It tells a story that carries a warning to every man and woman in the world. It has a grip that is as unyielding as a steel vise.

This drama with a message to the world can be seen at the Lyric theater on Tuesday, June 22, at an admission price of ten cents. Six shows daily, 1:30, 3:00, 4:30, 6:00, 7:30 and 9:00 p. m.

BUTCHER BLOCK FOR COWS THAT DO NOT EARN THEIR KEEP

BERKELEY, June 18.—No longer can the cow chew the contemplative cud and browse in the lush meadows with no thought of the morrow and with the assurance that she will be taken care of no matter what amount of milk she gives.

She must earn her keep or pay the penalty with her life. Such is the dictum of the cow-testing association, which the University of California Farm Advisory Board has formed in Yolo county.

As a result of the investigation just completed on a thousand cows, 300 were found to be economic parasites, eating more than they produce. The punishment will be the butcher's block. Two hundred which just "got by" were placed on probation. The others were found to be earning money for their owners. One "lazy" cow was found to be costing her owner $48 a year more than she produced.

The farm advisory board is to extend its operations into every dairy section of the state.

MEXICAN GATHERINGS NEAR COUNTY JAIL TO MEET STERN REBUKE

Sheriff to Take Steps to Put Stop to Practice That Proved Annoying

Whenever a Garcia or a Ramirez or a Hernandez is taken to jail, all the Garcias, Ramirezes, Hernandezes, Gutierrezes and other ezs, including muchachos and muchachas down to the finest muchachito and muchachita—and there is generally enough of both—gather along the courthouse alley, on the sidewalks, retaining wall, grass and street. Half the time the region near the east side of the court house looks like a Mexican picnic.

It's going to be stopped. Sheriff Jackson gave notice to the usual morning gathering this morning to break camp and move on. It moved.

"Saturday is visiting day at the jail," said Jackson, "and on that day we will allow the connections to assemble, but we shall ask them to make their sessions extremely short. A motion to adjourn will be always in order."

NEWS LETTER OF ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, June 18.—A delightful social evening was enjoyed by the Federal Aid Union at the close of their business meeting last evening in Odd Fellows' hall. It was a floral evening in which the games and contests all related to flowers.

The hall and dining room were both handsomely decorated with Shasta daisies. The program consisted of a floral guessing game, floral anagrams and floral picture gallery. First prizes were curiously enough all won by Mrs. S. G. Unland. Before departing for their homes the guests were served with Marguerites and punch.

The F. A. U. is planning for the Children's night program, which will be held July 8, their second meeting in that month.

A good time is in prospect for the Royal Neighbors, who are completing plans for their picnic tomorrow at the Orange County Park. The crowd will leave the plaza in a big motor truck at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and will spend the day at the park. A basket lunch will be spread at noon, the lodge furnishing free coffee and ice cream to the members and their families. The individuals are requested to bring along their own cups, saucers and spoons.

Rev. Schmelzer of Anaheim will lecture tonight before the Orange Concordia Society. After the lecture a meeting will be held to consider plans for entertaining the delegates to the National Walther League convention.

A pleasant afternoon was passed by the R. C. A. Club when it met yesterday at the home of Mrs. C. C. Beard on West Almond avenue. Following an enjoyable social time, refreshments of ice cream and fruit punch were served. The next meeting will be held next Wednesday with Mrs. Irvin Decker.

Mrs. E. W. Shell was a guest of the club. The following members were present: Mrs. Irvin Decker, Mrs. T. A. Gray, Mrs. H. E. Fowler, Mrs. Puri Shell, Mrs. Joe Webster, Mrs. G. R. Martin and Mrs. C. C. Beard.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Livingston, of West Laveta avenue, entertained at a neighborhood gathering last evening, the occasion being the semi-annual dinner given by the ladies to their husbands. The pleasure of the affair was increased by the fact that it was Mr. Livingston's birthday.

The Livingston home was prettily decorated with roses and Shasta daisies. A delightful dinner, followed by a social evening, was passed.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. A. Ingal, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stolp, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Pohlmann, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pohlmann and daughter, Mrs. Louise Stolp, Mrs. A. E. Cummings, Mrs. Wallace Zirkle and two daughters of Cheney, Kansas; Mrs. M. J. Clark, Frank Livingston, Bert Grafton and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Livingston.

Villa Park's Modern Priscillas met at the home of Mrs. John Gillogly yesterday and passed one of the most delightful afternoons of the season. There was a good attendance, which included several visitors, Mrs. Elma Lee, Mrs. Al Adams, Mrs. W. F. Gillogly of Orange and Mrs. Effie Nelson of Porterville.

The house was prettily decorated with Shasta daisies, and pansy place cards were used at the table. Delicious refreshments were a concluding feature of the affair.

A house warming shower for Mrs. Mary Schrock, an aunt of Mrs. W. J. Richardson, who recently came here from Pennsylvania and has been staying at the C. F. Huntsinger home, was given last evening at the house on North Harwood street where she has just located.

It was planned as a surprise and, principally, delighted the venerable lady. Pink carnations, red geraniums and ferns beautified the living and dining rooms and a jolly social evening was spent, ending with refreshments.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Steafather and daughter, Mrs. Anna Morningstar, Mrs. Saxe and Mrs. Ryan, all of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Huntsinger, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winslow, Miss Lena Messersmith, Mrs. Elizabeth Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richardson and daughter, Rose.

Mrs. C. B. Christenson returned home last evening from Fairmead, where she has been spending a week with her brother, Clinton Morrow. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Morrow, of Villa Park, accompanied her, but remained for a longer visit.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

It is anything but pleasant to contemplate the business and financial conditions of the countries engaged in war. Money is becoming scarcer and business more depressed as hostilities continue. The most active industries are those engaged in the manufacture of war equipment. Interest rates are steadily advancing on account of increased borrowings. Expenditures for war purposes have thus been financed far ahead through liquid capital the need for which in business lines has been small since hostilities began. When it comes time to finance these loans permanently there is certain to be a very urgent demand for funds, and interest rates doubtless will be still higher. There is no part of the world where such effects are not almost certain to be felt.

Other countries throughout the world present a somewhat mixed situation. Conditions in the United States are far better than obtain anywhere else. Manufacturers engaged in making war materials are almost overwhelmed with business, and orders seem to be increasing all the time. However, the most encouragement is derived from the fact that greater activity is reported by industries engaged in other lines of trade. Fundamental conditions are so sound that it seems as if hardly anything could occur to check the onward march of general business. Possibility of intervention in Mexico and the strained relations with Germany have not done anything more than to cause some hesitation. When it is realized that exports of the United States in April were $294,746,117, as compared with $162,550,870 in April, 1914, and that these heavy exports have been making constant gains since a short time after war was declared, it is not at all difficult to understand why confidence has been increasing in the country. Then the very favorable crop outlook, as indicated by the official government report issued this week, is another and still better reason for conviction that business is on a sound foundation.

In the South American countries confidence is beginning to return, and, although business has not revived to any great extent, there are signs of improvement, as indicated by the fact that hoarding of money has ceased and bank deposits are increasing. This is particularly true with regard to Argentina. The crops are bountiful, nearly as large as the big yield of last season. Similar conditions are found in Brazil, Chile and Uruguay. The marked rise in the price of copper has greatly stimulated the Chilean copper industry and other lines of trade. Chaotic conditions still prevail in Mexico. Should the United States find it possible to pacify that republic, business there would probably improve at once. China is adversely affected by the war, and business is very much depressed. This is largely because China hitherto has depended on Europe for financial help and now to a considerable extent is left to its own resources. Greece has lately made great strides toward financial and industrial improvement. A large increase in exports has contributed greatly to the betterment.—Christian Science Monitor.

"LOST AND FOUND"

A woman who recently lost a handbag of some value on the streets of a large city was telling the other day about her observations of "Lost and Found" advertising. She watched a number of newspapers for a week or two. She says that there are half a dozen people who advertise articles lost, for every one who ever advertises anything found.

Any article of sufficient value to advertise is usually picked up by some one. It looks as if about five-sixths of the people who find articles of value keep them, making no serious effort to find the owner.

This does not necessarily imply dishonesty. Rather it indicates that the finder thinks it up to the loser to advertise. But the loser often—even usually—does advertise, and frequently without result.

It is the rule of this office to tell people who ask advice about advertising for a lost article that if an honest person finds it advertising will almost surely secure its return; if it is found by a dishonest person advertising will be useless.

No doubt most people who would keep a found purse, without effort to trace the owner, would recoil with horror at the idea of picking a person merely be a fear of the law, but a sense that it is a low down trick to steal. Yet they may do something equally mean by indirection:

People should put themselves in the place of the other person. Losing a sum of money or other property is a most irritating experience. It fills one with disgust at his own carelessness, and one begrudges the loss far more than if the money were equally wasted in some extravagant and needless purchase.

The return of a lost article is a kindness that is not soon forgotten. There are comparatively few people who, on reading a "Lost" notice in a newspaper would decide not to restore the article.

Failure to return the property would be so clearly a criminal act that a person must be potentially a crook not to do it. Keeping still about a found article that one has not seen advertised is not morally any different. But some people's codes of honor are crude and hazy. The absence of any actively dishonest act seems to satisfy them. If the disproportion of "Lost and Found" advertising noted above is a general one, it indicates that the finder expects the loser to do the advertising, or a yellow streak of dishonesty running through our daily life.

COST OF RURAL MAIL

If any congressman in 1898 had moved that the sum of $47,377,070 be appropriated for the purpose of carrying mail around to the houses of farmers, he would have been thought crazy. Yet that is what the service cost in 1914. Not merely that but the department has just taken in $7,850 more families.

The enormous cost of this service causes criticism. The expense per route is much more than was thought in the beginning. The carriers and their friends have become a powerful political interest. They demanded and secure liberal payment.

The people along a route are said largely to pay for it, by the stamps they buy and those that are bought to deliver mail matter to them. Possibly, yet the same people might be living elsewhere and buying the same stamps at a regular post office were there no route.

As a time saver the service is very effective. It is cheaper for one man to spend a day taking mail to a hundred farmers, than for a hundred farmers each to spend an hour or two a day driving to the post office. The critic may see to this, however, that the cost of the service should be paid by the farmer, since he gets the benefit of this enormous time saving.

Country and city must each think broadly of the interest of the other. There are certain drawbacks of loneliness to life on the farms. This has led people to rush to the towns, and has made living costs higher for all town dwellers. Unless the town people wish this tendency to continue, they must go the limit to bring modern conveniences to the outlying rural sections.

Rural delivery gives the farmer daily touch with the markets, so he can buy and sell intelligently. It brings the newspaper promptly to his door, so that he does not feel isolated. The little mail cart is the thin thread that binds him to the moving world. Any politician who should favor cutting it out would be regarded as just as crazy today, as if he had suggested spending all this money in 1898.

How the Flow of a River is Measured
If you see a man leaning over the railing of a bridge intently watching the river, with a telephone receiver at his ear do not think that the man is trying to talk to the fishes or to a diver below the surface. He is probably one of the Government's engineers measuring the amount of water passing under the bridge. This is done by lowering an instrument known as a current meter into the water at several points under the bridge to determine the speed of the water and by measuring the depths of the water at the same points. From such information the flow of the river at that particular time and height can be computed, and when such measurements have been made at a number of different heights the flow of the stream at any height can be determined. Then if a record of the height of the river is obtained each day from a river gage, the flow for each day can be computed.

Extra Sugar Dividend
Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company has declared an extra dividend of 50 cents in addition to its regular monthly dividend of 25 cents. This is an extra dividend of $200,000. During 1910, 1911 and 1912, which were normally good years, Hawaiian Commercial disbursed dividends $1,600,000 a year, made up of twelve regular monthly dividends of 25 cents each and two extra dividends a year of $4 a share or 16 per cent on the par value of the stock.

CONCERNING MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day, 1915, has passed into history and the G. A. R. voted it a great success from start to finish, except as to numbers attending. We talked it over yesterday in the Post and passed resolutions which we hope will appear later in our papers. We have one regret at conditions that exist in our midst. I believe no worse here than in every other place. These conditions which I am going to mention have been existing for the past 30 years, and I don't know as they are growing any worse at all in the minds of the people, in general, but the fast age and the means of transportation and getting about has increased and the people's conduct in general, on Memorial Day is keeping pace with a fast age. I am going to call your attention especially to two incidents of this last Memorial Day.

The first is the automobile tournament or races on Memorial Day. A few years ago it was horse races or other athletic sports. Now the automobiles and motorcycles are taking the place of the horse. We believe they are desecrating this sacred Memorial Day, which has been set apart by our nation as a day of mourning for the dead comrades and for teaching loyalty and patriotism to the young people who are coming along request, we believe in the interest of the coming generation, our country and loyalty to our flag.

Here in connection I want to mention the fact that on taking up the bulletin of announcements of the services of the Methodist Church of our city for the Sunday of May 30th I found the following announcement: "The Epworth League will hold a picnic tomorrow at Orange County Park. The young folks will leave the church at 1:30 P. M. Autos are being provided." This announcement was also made from the pulpit. There is probably no man in Santa Ana who has said more good things about Memorial Day and about the soldiers of our country, dead and alive, than has our good Brother Inwood and we are and feel sure that this arrangement and announcement of the Epworth League picnic was done without any intention of desecrating or disregarding the purpose of Memorial Day.

The young folks of the Epworth League are of the very age when they need the instructions given by our Memorial Day services and they are the very people that could assist not only by being present at these services but in any other way that they can in making Memorial Day a success.

Our Memorial Day services were held in one of the smallest churches in our city and with the attendance of the G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps and the ladies of the G. A. R. and the Daughters of Veterans, as organizations, the church was not filled.

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church could not have been accommodated if it had come in a body to attend our Memorial services. But we assure the people that manage the automobile races and the leaders of the Epworth League that if they will attend our Memorial exercises in the future that we will be glad to secure the largest hall in our city for our services.

I mention these two matters particularly, because they were publicly announced and advertised, but this admonition applies to dozens of other organizations going on picnics and spending Memorial Day in sports and recreation instead of observing it as it is intended to be observed.

Let us hereafter try to think of it not as a Sabbath or as an ordinary legal holiday but as a Memorial Day and observe it as you would like to have other people keep a day set apart in the memory of your departed father, husband, son, brother, lover or friend.

We trust and hope that this request will be accepted and considered in the light it is intended for the benefit of our country and all of the people.

E. T. Langley, patriotic instructor of Sedgwick Post, Department of California and Nevada, Grand Army of the Republic.

Practical Ideals

Before the students of the University of Illinois on the 4th inst., George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey, delivered an address on "practical ideals" in which he said that "We need to see ourselves and our day in the right perspective." Referring to big business, he said:

"A working minority of American citizens have come to realize that unregulated private monopoly and good citizenship are antagonistic terms. And, now that popular clamor is giving place to second-thought the other side of the monopoly question is receiving the consideration it deserves, there is a widespread recognition of the common interdependence of big business and the general public. On the one side, the people are realizing that they are and have been in reality silent partners in big business, and now that there has come the promise of some regulation that will in large part prevent the concentration of the people are interested in getting their share of the returns which can come only with operation at a profit. On the other hand, the managers of the large corporations, who are really the trustees of the investing public, are beginning to see that certain financial security goes with public confidence. The public can not be left out of the reckoning, and that well-remembered attitude toward the public so tersely expressed 30 years ago by a pioneer in railroad affairs does not pay dividends today. The return of the public to the question of efficiency? I find a simple answer to that question in the opinions of the higher courts. In the decisions of public utility commissions, and in recent or pending legislation. Industrial enterprises as conducted by corporations are inherently cooperative. Owner, workman, and consumer are in reality partners, and as such deserve to share in the profits. The public can demand low prices only after adequate profit has been provided for capital and fair wages for labor. This basic principle of profit-sharing among all three partners seems to me the cornerstone among the practical ideals of the present day."

"The trouble with too many of the business men of the day, and especially with those who come to Washington to oppose new legislation, is their near-sightedness. They can not see country-wide public opinion and do not appreciate the obvious fact that the financial centers are not also the centers of national thought. The result of this, as I expressed it in conversation last winter with a New York gentleman who was largely interested in water-power development, is that the business interests oppose something at one Congress which two years later they would accept; but the next Congress is already considering a more advanced legislative proposition. We are all more or less progressive, I told him, but the opposition has been just one lap behind. The bright light of publicity is coming and more and more upon the inner workings of all private business which has anything of the public-service character."

Iron Works Increases Force

Prosperity on the coast is manifest in the announcement of the Union Iron Works of San Francisco that it will place an additional 2000 men at work in its shops. The company is building two steamers to cost $700,000 each, a tank steamer for the Standard Oil Company, and several smaller vessels. One of the large ships is being built for Mayor Rolph, of San Francisco, and will ply between the Bay City and New York.

Boost for Walnut Industry

E. R. Badger, of Tucson, Arizona, has made a discovery that will revolutionize the walnut industry in that state. He has found that the English walnut can be grafted on the native Arizona tree and made to bear the new fruit the following year. Not only is the fruit richer and of more commercial value, but the character of the native trees is changed so that they are preferable to other kinds for the purpose of beautification.

MERRY DINNER PARTY

Miss Ruth Visel Is Hostess to College Friends Just Home

Herbert Kendall brought a merry party of Pomona students home for the summer vacation, yesterday afternoon, arriving in time for a sumptuous chicken dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Visel, their daughter Miss Ruth, who returned with the company, being hostess at this informal affair.

Fragrant pink roses, combined with Maiden-hair fern, were arranged in a beautiful centerpiece and the tints of the chosen color scheme were reproduced throughout the appetizing courses, greatly appreciated by the young people after their auto ride.

Nathaniel Fox of Pomona College was guest of honor and after the merry dinner, the young people enjoyed a motoring trip to Balboa.

Among Miss Visel's guests were Misses Wilhelmina Cavins, Alice Cranston, Elsie Lutz, Messrs. Nathaniel Fox, Don Menges, Herbert Kendall and Bill Kneen.

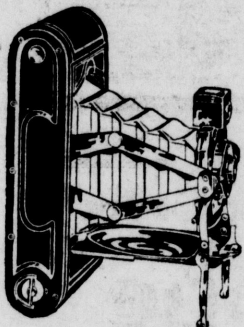

Enjoy Excellent Talk

Those who attended the First M. E. Woman's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary on Wednesday had a rare treat when they listened to the address of Mrs. H. A. Sisson, on child life in different lands which she has visited during the past two years. As the auxiliary has been studying the book, "The Child in the Midst," her subject was especially appreciated and instructive.

A standing vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Sisson for her kindness in coming to speak to the auxiliary, giving each one a fuller insight into the environment of childhood and the work that is being done by different missions for their betterment.

Several new members were received at this meeting which was in charge of the president, Mrs. McLeod. The devotions were read by Mrs. A. L. Dearing. The following committee served delicious fruitade and cake: Mrs. Drickson, Mrs. Flitz, and Mrs. J. E. Jayne.

A GLORIOUS TREAT

School Year Closes With Delightful Outing For Teachers; Parents Are Hosts

Yesterday afternoon a glorious treat was given the teachers of the city schools, their husbands and their wives, by the city Parent Teachers' Association. They were taken to the Orange County Park by automobiles generously and kindly provided by the citizens of Santa Ana. Too much praise cannot be given to all who so kindly donated their autos for this grand occasion of giving the teachers this delightful outing.

Committees from the various Parent Teachers' Associations of the city met at an early hour in the park and prepared the feast for the hungry guests when at five o'clock one hundred and seventy-five teachers, parents and all those who assisted in bringing the teachers to the park were seated at tables that fairly groaned with the good things that had been prepared. The following menu was served, not in courses but in picnic style: hot scalloped potatoes, coffee, rolls, sliced boiled ham, olives, orange marmalade, salads, home-made cakes, apricots. One noticeable feature that was especially gratifying was that every teacher was present except one.

This occasion was unanimously considered as the best entertainment ever yet accorded the teachers who were unanimous in expressing their pleasure for such a delightful afternoon.

The credit for this treat must be given to the president of the City Federation, Mrs. F. H. McElree who during her recent illness planned and carried into effect yesterday afternoon's entertainment, with the efficient help of the committees. Many comments were expressed on the excellent management of the entire affair.

Popular and old-time songs were enjoyed by all, led by Prof. Garstang whose singing added to the jolly time that all were enjoying. The teachers gave a vote of thanks to the parents for their splendid outing and expressed the wish that it might be made an annual affair. The association again thanks all that assisted by furnishing automobiles, even though they did not have to make the trip as more cars reported at Birch Park that were needed, and all who assisted in any way to make the picnic a success.

Red Cross Society to Meet
The Orange County branch of the British Red Cross Society will hold its monthly meeting and tea on Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Parish Hall of the Church of the Messiah.

An interesting program is anticipated. Dr. Robertson will speak about the great work of the Red Cross and Mrs. Pixley of Orange has kindly consented to give some recitations. It is hoped that all those interested will attend.

Orange County Still "Looks Good"
Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Minter went to Los Angeles one day this week, where they took the train for their home in Sanger, California. They were accompanied by auto as far as the Angel City by Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Leonard, Misses Frances Leonard and Dora Minter.

Mrs. Minter came home with her parents about two weeks ago when they returned from their trip to the Fresno Dry convention, Mr. Minter coming later by train. They have a fine ranch in Fresno county, but declared that Orange county still looks good to people who have ever lived within its limits.

New "Generator" Staff Members
The new advisory board of "The Generator," composed of Russel Adkinson, chairman; Kenneth Krouch, editor-in-chief; Claire McPhee, George Krock, Glen Sturdevant and D. K. Hammond, faculty advisor, met in

"The Generator" office Thursday afternoon for the purpose of appointing new members of the staff.

Mr. Hammond outlined the duties of the board for the coming year. The newly-appointed members are, Burton Wright and James Uti, assistant business managers; William Taylor and John Wehrly, associate editors; Dorothy Uti, society editor; Ruth Hickox, assistant society editor, and Warren Mansur, athletic editor, with Neal Raney as assistant.

After considering the ability of the new staff members, it is believed that "The Generator" will increase in popularity in the coming year.

Travelers to Picnic
Travel Section Number Two of the Ebell Club will picnic at Balboa next Monday, the members leaving Santa Ana on the 9:50 car.

Picnic At County Park
Orange County Park is one of the most popular places for summer picnics and Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wick invited a few friends to enjoy supper together in this beautiful spot.

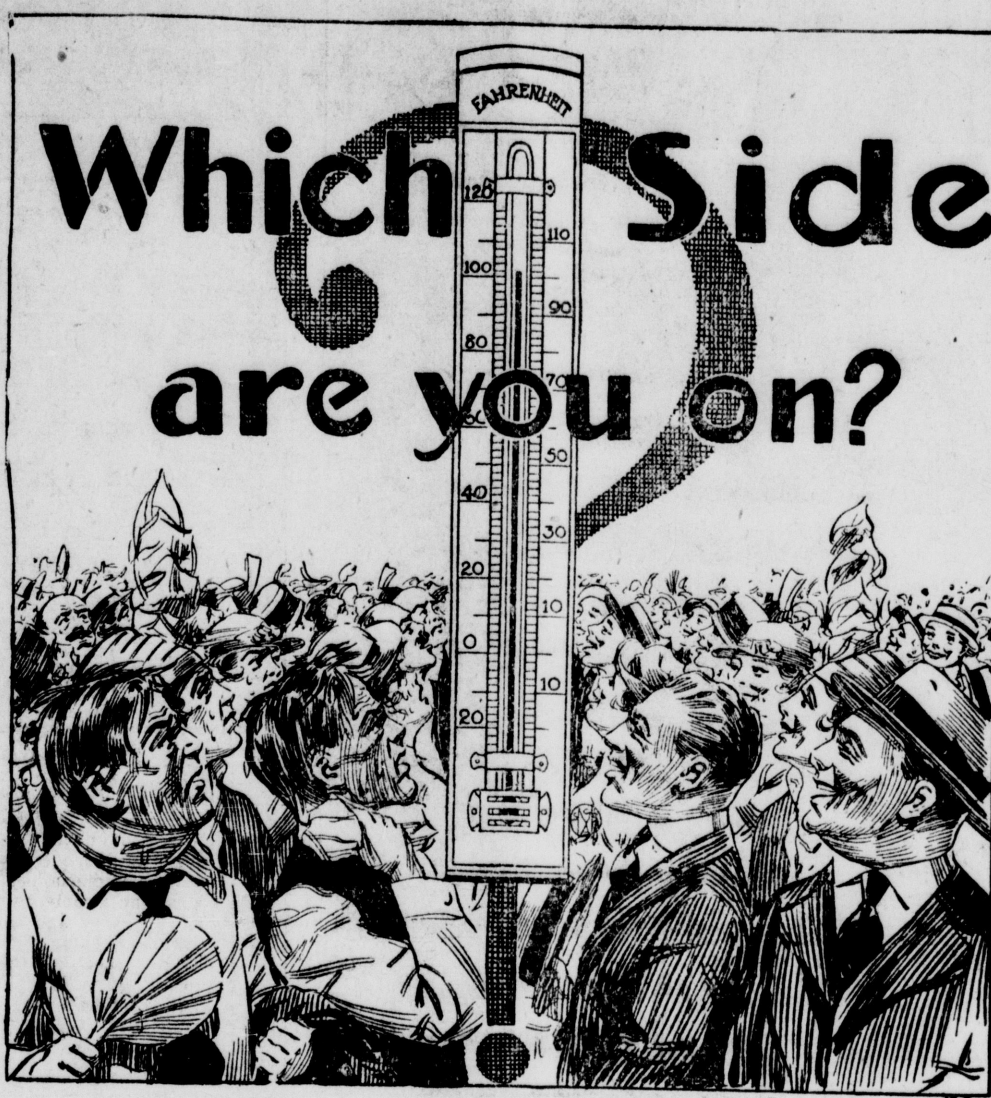

The delightful affair was given in honor of Mrs. Wick's nieces, Mrs. Herman Schlegel and daughter Miss Corinne of Wausau, Wisconsin, and the ride gave all keen appetites for the appetizing hot supper that was soon in readiness.

Among those who enjoyed this pleasant affair were Mrs. Schlegel and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Grigsby, Mrs. Stella Morehouse and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burns and family, Miss Grace Grigsby and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wick.

Mrs. Schlegel returns Monday to her Wisconsin home by way of San Francisco exposition, but Miss Corinne remains in Santa Ana for the summer. Both are delighted with Southern California.

Easterners are Welcomed
Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wick motored to Los Angeles this morning to meet Mr. Wick's sister and niece, Mrs. C. W. Twining and Miss Elizabeth Heller, who have just arrived from Canton, Illinois to spend the summer in California and take in its interesting exhibitions.

The party returned over the foothill boulevard, by way of Whittier, and the easterners, who have just come from Central Illinois, where the corn-fields are now in flourishing condition, were delighted with the change

Members of Altar Society Hold Delightful Meeting At Country Home

The members of the Altar Society of St. Joseph's Catholic church combined service with pleasure yesterday when they met at the hospitable ranch home of Mrs. John Maag on the road to Olive. There was a splendid attendance, nine auto loads leaving from Santa Ana, and all enjoyed the beautiful drive to their destination.

The guests found Mrs. Maag's home beautifully decorated with a profusion of Shasta daisies, and they were soon engaged in sewing carpet rags, over which they discussed plans for their fall bazaar.

At the close of the needlework session, refreshments of ice cream and a variety of delicious cake and candies were served at the long table, prettily centered by a basket of the Shasta daisies reflected on a mirror plateau, Mrs. Maag being assisted in serving and entertaining by her charming sister, Miss Marie Lippis.

Mrs. Thomas Kirwin and her winsome little daughter, Miss Mary, of Darlington, Wisconsin, were welcome guests of the society, and Father Eumelen, messrs. Charles and Leo Schmiedeberg and Will Wagner were other visitors during the afternoon. Others present included Mesdames L. M. Doyle, E. A. Biggs, G. E. PRETTY ANNOUNCEMENT

Wedding Bells Will Chime For Popular Santa Ana Couple

Wedding bells will chime soon for two of Santa Ana's popular young people, Miss Ethel Roper and Mr. Carl Sinke, and this interesting news was cleverly told Wednesday eve, when Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Barnes of Anaheim entertained with an evening at auction. Mrs. Hugh Plumb captured first prize at the close of the merry session at cards, while Miss Verna Peterson received the consolation trophy. Dr. Plumb was the "star" player among the gentlemen, the consolation prize being the reward of Mr. Roy Peterson.

The home was profusely decorated with fragrant bouquets of red sweet peas combined with sprays of carrot fern, and late in the evening the guests were served delicious refreshments, carrying out the prevailing color units, each table being centered with a basket of the chosen flowers.

During the first course, the engagement of these last victims of Willy Dan Cupid was cleverly announced, for between the layers of their dainty sandwiches, the guests soon discovered tiny cards, decorated with clusters of exquisitely hand-painted orange blossoms, which bore the names of Miss Roper and her fortunate fiancé. While good wishes and congratulations were showered upon the honorees, Miss Roper was presented with a beautiful bouquet of white sweet peas and Maiden-hair fern, tied with a bow or filmy tulle.

Among those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Barnes were Dr. and Mrs. Plumb of Grand Junction, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Plumb, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Northcross, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vallele, of Los Angeles; Misses Marvel Baker, Hayes Fleming, Katherine Lutz, Lena Thomas, Verna Peterson, Bernice Roper; Messrs. Lester Carden, Ralph Collins, Dr. Ross, Ralph Waubridge, George Menges, Harvey Gardner and Elmer Prince.

RECEPTION GIVEN LOVED WOMAN DURING VISIT TO GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, June 18.—A reception was given Monday in honor of Mrs. Polly Warren, who fifteen years ago owned and lived on the property now belonging to Mr. Dean.

"Grandma" Warren has been visiting among old friends here since Sunday.

A very happy company of sixteen spent the evening with her at Mrs. Oman's home. Music, singing and talking of old times was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Warren died about seven years ago. Fifteen years ago they celebrated their golden wedding. About two years ago "Grandma" proved up on a claim she took up in Oregon, having lived most of the time on it alone. She is today very clear of mind and spry for one of her age.

She left Tuesday morning for Fernando, where she is to spend the remainder of her days with her son.

Mrs. Phebe Walker and daughter, Ethel, who own the property adjoining Mr. Dean on the North are here from Monrovia and are making some needed improvements about their place. All will be glad to see the little cottage so much improved. It is so close in and will make a comfortable home for some one.

Miss Esther Hedstrom leaves the first of the week for Santa Barbara to attend the summer session of Santa Barbara Normal School.

The 8th grade of 1912 of the Garden Grove Grammar School had a hay ride party to Seal Beach Friday night. There were thirteen beside the chaperon.

The evening was spent around a bon fire roasting weenies and marshmallows. A splendid time is reported.

Mrs. Ludt of Graham has been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Waltz.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Pierson of Haymond, Texas, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Reyburn for a few days.

Mrs. Edna M. Kimball of Monrovia spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. G. Reyburn.

The Queen Esther Circle will meet

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—Advertisement.

EXPOSITION CROWDS TO SEE FUNNY MEN PLANT CHESTNUT TREE!!

CHESTNUT: A genus of plants allied to the beech. The common or Spanish chestnut is a stately tree with large handsome serrated leaves. The fruit consists of two or more seeds enveloped in a prickly husk.

CHESTNUT: An old joke or wheeze.

Take your choice—either is correct. Anyhow the world is not to languish for want of chestnuts after August 25, American Press Humorists' Day at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. For on that day, their day, the newspaper joke-writers of the United States are going to plant and dedicate to posterity an official chestnut tree.

This unique ceremony is to be the formal purpose of their holiday journey to San Francisco, their this year's outing, and is intended to make their thirteenth convention distinctive. As far as is known nobody has ever planted a chestnut tree for the benefit of the whole world before. But the humorists decided it was high time something were done, what with the visible supply of squirrel food becoming so depleted. The exposition landscape gardeners, John McLaren, the famous builder of Golden Gate Park, and his son, Donald McLaren, have reserved a fine young tree for the planting. The site chosen is at the Press Building. But this is only temporary. The tree is to become a gift to San Francisco for a permanent place in one of its magnificent parks, where it can grow uninterrupted and perpetuate a liberal harvest of chestnuts—both kinds.

The chestnut tree ceremony will be participated in by exposition officials and American Press Humorists jointly, aided, abetted and approved by members of the local press club, which has several humorist members. Ted Robinson of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, president, wields the trusty spade, while Dixon Merritt of the Nashville Tennessean, vice president, steers the precious sapling. George Fitch of Berlin, a past president, author of "Good Old Swish," "Homeburg Memories" and "Vest Pocket Essays," holds Robinson's coat so that Secretary Fred Schaefer of San Francisco doesn't get it. Schaefer in the meantime to hold Fitch so he doesn't leave with the coat. Sufficient dignity will be lent the affair by Roy K. Moulton of Grand Rapids, the Central Press humorist, who doesn't say much, but writes a lot.

Hull of Garden Grove and Rev. Lewis of Whittier officiating. The body was interred in the Alamitos cemetery.

DOG TRADES PAPERS FOR DAILY HAND-OUT

McVay Solves Mystery In Delivery of Times Near Anderson's Store

D. L. Anderson's red bird dog was caught in a petty larceny act this morning.

He has been stealing copies of the Los Angeles Times, and has left them in front of his master's grocery store in the Opera House block.

The dog's intentions were undoubtedly good. He is evidently a believer in reciprocity. While he has not figured out the word in its relation to international affairs, he has a rudimentary notion that one good turn deserves another.

W. R. Currie of Anderson's Store has frequently found the dog at the store when Currie opened up in the morning, and frequently Currie has given the animal a hand-out of waste products. Joy was the dog's. He cherished those hand-outs beyond human description.

In his dog wisdom he knew that men folk liked to read newspapers. He proceeded to repay Currie's kindness with copies of the Los Angeles Times.

For the last two or three weeks V. S. McVay, agent of the Times, has been receiving reports from customers in the block on Fourth between Bush and Spurgeon. Sometimes it was the Vienna Bakery that called up and said the Times was gone. Just as often it was S. Hill & Son's Hardware store. Once in awhile it was Wm. F. Lutz Co.

McVay concluded that he would find out who was getting a copy of the morning paper without paying for it. He stood around on the corner this morning in an unconscious manner, and waited. Soon he spied a red bird dog cross the street to the Vienna Bakery, where a Times rolled and tied with a wire had been delivered by carrier. The dog picked up the paper and started across the street.

McVay swooped down upon the miscreant, and rescued the stolen article. McVay returned to his office in triumph. He had discovered the source of his circulation annoyance. But the dog was not vanquished—not by a long jump. McVay was no sooner out of sight than the red dog got another paper and delivered it at the grocery store door.

And that is not all of the story either. Some of these men—E. R. Curtis, for instance—who have been out hunting with Anderson are just mean enough to say that now they know why Anderson always gets the most birds when he goes out hunting with a bunch. That dog knows on which side his bread is buttered.

CANNERY FINDS SHIPMENT OF BERRIES 133 BOXES SHY

Klein-Simpson Co. Again Declares It Is Going to "Bust" City Ordinance

Today the Klein-Simpson Co. of Los Angeles had another round with the Santa Ana ordinance regulating the weight of boxes of berries.

During the round, a representative again declared his firm was going to "bust" the ordinance.

Since Klein-Simpson Co. was recently convicted of shipping short-weight berries to a Santa Ana merchant, the company has quit shipping to retailers here. However, three shipments have been received by Taylor's cannery, one of sixty-five crates, one of fifty and a third of fifty. The third shipment arrived this morning at the P. E. depot and there it ran foul of George McPhee, county sealer of weights and measures.

McPhee weighed some of the boxes and found many of them from an ounce to an ounce and a half short in weight. When this fact was reported to John Taylor, manager of the cannery, Taylor called Klein-Simpson Co. on the telephone and stated that he would not receive the berries unless the firm would make good the shortage. When it was discovered that McPhee was responsible, the firm's representative used some impolite language. He declared that his firm was going to take an appeal to the superior court from the judgment in the city recorder's court in which the firm was fined.

"We are going to take that case to the superior court," the representative is quoted as having said, "and if necessary we will take it to the supreme court, in order to bust it."

Finally, however, the Los Angeles man agreed to make good whatever shortage there was, and upon that Taylor agreed to accept the shipment. McPhee and an employee of the cannery proceeded to weigh berries in eighteen crates, and found them to contain eighteen pounds fewer berries than they should. On that basis the fifty crates would be 133 boxes short, which will be the amount of shortage that Taylor will expect the shipper to stand good for when payment is made by Taylor.

REPRESENTATIVES AT BIG FAIR ARE GIVEN PRAISE BY VISITOR

P. A. Robinson Says Boosters at Bay City Are Doing the County Big Service

High praise for the work being done at the San Francisco Panama-Pacific Exposition by Mrs. Harry Tubbs, of this city, assistant of D. W. McDannald, Orange county representative at the fair, is accorded her by P. A. Robinson, of 219 East Washington avenue, who has recently returned from a visit to the exposition.

"I doubt very much if Orange county people realize the service that McDannald and Mrs. Tubbs are doing this locality," says Robinson. "McDannald is very busy at all times promoting the interests of this county at the big fair and whatever work he is unable to take care of is capably attended to by Mrs. Tubbs."

"Her tact and graciousness are doing much to aid fair visitors in gaining a favorable impression of the resources of this county. Mrs. Tubbs has thoroughly familiarized herself with data and general information of Orange county and her booster talks are very favorably received."

ABANDONS HIS RANCH NEAR DURANGO

Anaheim Gazette: Jonathan Kraemer writes from Durango, Mexico, to his brother, Samuel Kraemer of Placentia, saying he has temporarily abandoned the ranch of 220,000 acres in which he holds an interest and has taken up his residence in the city of Durango, because Villa and Carranza troops are fighting on all sides of his possessions. He writes that despite the revolution and the great losses the ranch has sustained in recent years by depredations of bandits, he still regards Mexico as an inviting field for investment and profit.

During the past four years he states that 40,000 head of stock have been taken from the ranch by revolutionists, as well as many horses. A year ago when a gang of Villd troopers descended upon his ranch and demanded money from him he was injured by a bayonet thrust which one of the Mexicans aimed at his vitals upon his statement that he had no money for them. Kraemer sprang to one side, receiving the bayonet thrust in the body. He went to El Paso for medical treatment, and as the wound was superficial, he soon recovered. He returned to the ranch and remained there until recently, when as fighting continued on all sides of him, he left for the city of Durango, where he is now located. He looks for a cessation of hostilities in the near future, when he will again take up the work of tilling the large ranch, which has five haciendas upon it.

The land is rich and fertile, well watered, and is one of the finest tracts in the state of Durango. His losses on account of the revolution have been severe, but he will make a new start and has no doubt that he will succeed. He raises great quantities of grain as well as stock, and despite the many depredations of bandit bands, has prospered during his residence in Mexico.

A story is told of a neighboring rancher who was set upon by a band of Villa desperados who demanded money from him. He took to his bed, feigning illness. He called his four children about him, and as the bandits entered his home, told them he was critically ill and was unable to give them any money. They left, promising to come at a later date, when they warned him that he would be killed if money was not forthcoming. He had $800 hidden under his pillow. When the bandits again returned he hid in a barranca a mile or more away from his home, and escaped them.

Uniform Laws for Corporations
A report on state laws for taxation of foreign corporations, submitted to President Wilson this week, after many months of work by the old Bureau of Corporations, declares that lack of uniformity of those laws has often seriously restricted and hampered business and that large sums of money have been lost by corporations for unwitting violations. It emphasizes the importance of uniformity of state laws. The report presents the latest draft of a uniform corporation law made by the Commissioners on Uniform State Laws in national conference and presents a collation and comparison of laws now existing, which it expects will be of value to those engaged in commerce between the states.

May Visit Southern Hemisphere
Business and commercial interests of the United States have been requested by the Pan American Financial Conference to name a delegation to visit all the Central and South American countries. The conference adopted a resolution to this effect, the members of the delegation to be the guests of various nations and be received by the governments, by chambers of commerce and industrial organizations. Diplomatic representatives of the southern governments accredited to the United States will be asked to aid in formulating plans for the trip.

HUGE GRANITE BOULDER, LIVE OAK TREE WILL MARK MEMORY OF CLASS OF 1915 ON POLY HIGH GROUNDS

The class graduating from the Santa Ana high school has left something upon the poly grounds to remind future classes that it was a live class that graduated in June, 1915.

Yesterday a huge granite block weighing 2150 pounds was carted by the seniors to the southwest corner of the poly square. Upon that block a class plate is to be anchored.

Last night at class exercises, a live oak tree was planted beside the granite boulder.

Last year's graduating class started the planting idea. Numerous ferns and flowers were set out about the buildings. The spade used in the exercises was passed on to this year's class. Last night the colors of the '15 class were attached to the spade, and Ernest Plavan, president of the senior class, turned it over to the juniors.

A drill under the direction of Miss Marie Harris was a feature of the occasion.

Class Organizer
Though the class receives its diploma next Friday night and passes out of the school, it is to continue its organization. At a meeting last Tuesday officers for the year were selected, as follows: President, Marvin Morrison; vice president, Erving Burns; secretary, Miss Marie Harris.

The baccalaureate sermon is to be preached Sunday night by Rev. Inwood at the First Methodist church. Wednesday night at the Grand Opera House the seniors will present "All of a Sudden Peggy," and on Friday evening at the First Methodist church comes the commencement exercises.

Tonight comes the banquet given the seniors by the juniors. Many of the seniors are planning to attend the high school alumni banquet to be given in the First Baptist church basement next Monday evening.

Going to College
An unusually large proportion of the class is going away to college. From the Generator, the newspaper successfully published by the students, with Leo Keeney editor-in-chief and Vera Smith business manager, the following list of "where they go" is taken: Helen Garstang, San Diego Normal school; Jenefer Wilbur, post graduate course; Elizabeth Rudolph, stenographer; Leslie Farquhar, Iowa State College; Melton Hatch, Columbia Prep school; Washington, D. C.; Evelyn Gall, home; Margaret Robertson, home; Lela Heil, home; Margaret Hill, stenographer; Mabel Wesman, post graduate course; Irene Bowen, stenographer; Rachel Phelps, home; Connie Woodside, stenographer; Ramona Clevenger, expects to spend next year in touring the United States; Frank Makosky,throp College; William Ashman, Kansas State Agricultural College in two years; Mary Crozier, expects to spend next year in travel; Frank Blake, work.

Last Assembly
Thursday the last and one of the best assemblies of the year was held at the Santa Ana High School. All the afternoon periods were shortened and the assembly was held after the eighth period. First, the president presented each of the orators and members of the forensics team with an appropriate book. Mr. Baker next mentioned the fact that Ralph Chase, Editor-in-Chief of the Ariel, William Sebastian, the business manager, Helen Garstang, the art editor, and Mildred Bowen, the typist, each are to be presented with a specially bound Ariel, but owing to the fact that the bindings had not arrived yet, he was unable to present them at the time. He also spoke at length on the merits of each. President Morrison then presented a large banner with the numerals 15 on it to Ernest Plavan, as representative of the Senior Class, for having the largest number of students at the forensics contest at Anaheim. Ralph Beals, the Student Body treasurer, gave his quarterly report. The Student Body will end the year with approximately $200 left. This is something remarkable and shows good management. The biggest event, however, was the inauguration of next year's officers. Keith Davis and Russell Adkinson, in a cart drawn by a small donkey, came up on the platform, pushed on by eager helpers, in spite of the donkey's objections. They took their seats on the platform together with Spud Morrison. Next year's officers were then called out and Keith Davis administered the oath to the new president, Russell Adkinson, and to the other officers. He also gave a speech eulogizing the new and old presidents. Spud gave his farewell speech, cleverly and in a way that stirred the feelings of all. Adkinson next gave a fine inaugural speech, expressing his hopes and aims. Morrison, the outgoing president and Keith Davis then rode off in the donkey cart together.

4500 STUDENTS WILL ATTEND SUMMER SESSION U. C.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.
June 18.—Seventy per cent more people than ever before in the history of the university have applied for admission to the six-weeks' summer session of the University of California, which begins June 21. This means at least 4500 students, as compared with 3200 last summer.

The chance of combining a visit to the exposition with study in the summer session is one reason for this extraordinary expansion.

"Household Economics" promises to enroll more students than any other department. The universities only recently waked up to the fact that women want higher professional training for their special careers in the home. Now a faculty of sixteen people are to teach in the summer session such subjects as the science and art of cookery, home decoration, costume design, and "housewifery," which includes modern labor-saving methods, and how to buy what is really worth buying.

It will take a faculty of twenty to give the courses in physical education, so great is the interest in playground management, gymnasium methods, folk and esthetic dancing, community recreation facilities, and the whole great movement for healthy bodies as homes for healthy minds.

Among other subjects for which demand proves great are the lectures on "Nineteenth Century Poets" by Professor Stockton Axson, formerly of Princeton and now of Rice Institute; on "Vocational Guidance" by Meyer Bloomfield, director of the vocation bureau of Boston; on public health and social hygiene by Professor Mazzyck P. Ravenel of the University of Missouri and Dr. William E. Snow, secretary of the American Social Hygiene association; and on history by Professor H. Morse Stephens, Professor Max Farrand of Yale, Professor George L. Burr of Cornell, Professor F. J. Turner and Professor Charles H. Haskins of Harvard, and Dr. J. Franklin Jameson, editor of the American Historical Review.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT CHECK FOR FINE IS RETURNED NOT PAID

Justice Cox Issues Commitment For A. J. McCuiston In Cruelty Case

When A. J. McCuiston was convicted of overloading and overdriving his horses, Justice Cox ordered him to a fine of $50 or go to jail for fifty days. McCuiston immediately gave the justice a check for $50, which check Justice Cox endorsed and turned over to G. A. Whidden for the use of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. This morning the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank returned the check to Whidden with a slip marked "not sufficient funds."

Thereupon Whidden returned the check to Justice Cox. "That," said the justice, "means that the fine has not been paid, and I shall issue a commitment to put McCuiston in jail until the fine is satisfied."

No sooner said than done. Sheriff Jackson sent a deputy out after McCuiston. The only way McCuiston can keep out of jail is to produce some good money.

Is Sent to Jail O. D. Gaudett, arrested by Officer Ryan, was sentenced to jail for fifteen days on a vagrancy charge. Ryan expects to bring a petty larceny charge against the man.

MUSEUM COLLECTS LETTERS OF SOLDIERS

HAMBURG—The Museum of Hamburg History has begun the collection of soldier's letters from the front to relatives at home, and the latter's replies, as an adjunct to its archives connected with the war.

The aim is to get, not the writings of officers and the exceptionally well educated, but the humble comments of those who have written without any expectation that their words ever would be published, and therefore were completely unconscious.

The proponents of the plan want to get an insight into the patriotic courage, hate and love of peasant and citizen, worker and storekeeper by which they were actuated while at the front, to know their feelings as they thought of their homes, their relatives and their families.

HERE'S FISH TALE; 36 CAUGHT BY EEL

SMITH, La.—Joe Martin has just brought in the finest mess of bass of the season, and with it a strange tale. He had thirty-six big-mouth black bass that he caught at two hauls with a string line.

He was using small minnows for bait and had no luck. After fishing about an hour he caught a little eel. He proceeded to string it, declaring he was going to have something to show anyone.

He dropped the long stringing line over the side of his boat, fished for nearly an hour and caught a five-inch trout.

He started to pull up his line to string the trout and felt a fierce tug, and after a hard struggle he pulled in nineteen big black-mouthed bass, running from a pound to two and a half pounds.

The bass had tried to swallow the eel, and it had slid through their gills and strung them. Joe put the bass on another line, dropped the eel overboard again. In forty-one minutes he pulled up seventeen more bass.

AT THE COURTHOUSE IS LETTER WRITTEN TO HER BROTHER TO BE CLASSED AS WILL?

Today Judge West is hearing arguments in a contest entered in the estate of Jane Boylan Cook, who died on May 26. Mrs. Cook's brother, J. H. Higgins, has submitted a letter written to him. This letter is filed as the will. In it the writer states that she is going to be operated upon, and in case of her death she wants her property to be divided between her father and brothers and sister.

W. E. Cook of Anaheim, widower of the deceased, has entered a contest with Attorneys West, Koepsel and Eden representing him, alleging that the letter is not a will, in that it contemplated death only from the operation. It was stated by Attorney Eden that Mrs. Cook died a month after she returned from the hospital, and not from the operation.

If the letter stands as a will, the widower gets nothing from the estate. The brother alleges the estate to be worth $14,000, but there is included a ranch at Anaheim that Cook does not include in a petition filed by him. He puts the value of the estate at $1120. Tipton & Corcoran represent J. H. Higgins.

ORANGE County's sugar factories have practically completed their preparations for the coming campaign. Below is shown the plant of the Anaheim Sugar Company, one of the largest in the county. Weather conditions this spring have been splendid for the growth of beets and bumper crops will be harvested.

ORANGE COUNTY DISPLAY AT THE EXPOSITION HIGHLY COMMENDED

The following is copy sent out to newspapers by the California Building Publicity Bureau at the San Francisco exposition:

Orange county, one of the garden spots of the world, is taking a great and active part in the participation of the seven Southern California counties in the California building at the Panama-Pacific International exposition. While the display offered is of a composite nature, with each county featuring its own products, it can be truthfully said that there is hardly a feature of this wonderful section in California's Palace that Orange county has not contributed to.

The composite display is surrounded by a high wall of the mission style introduced in the early California days by the Franciscan friars. The buildings inside the facade are modeled along the same lines of architecture and every possible piece of construction serves to remind the visitor that Southern California is the land where the padres spread Christianity among the Indians. The windows of the beautiful and artistic bureau are of stained glass depicting the commercial and agricultural industries of the south and the entire section is profusely decorated with wonderful photographs and transparencies showing life as it is lived in the land of flowers and sunshine.

Orange county has sent to the exposition a large quantity of dairy products. In its county the factors which are potent in the feeding of good dairy cows, such as beets, pulp and bean straw, are cheap and abundant. The herds of the dairymen have been chosen with great care and the production of a good quality of milk has been assured. The city of Los Angeles is a steady market for milk and other products and a good price is commanded by these commodities. Alfalfa is one of many good crops raised in Orange county.

Among the industries of Orange county there is none more important than the cultivation of citrus fruits. Here the orange is king and the lemon is prince. The orange crop last year brought to the county more than $3,000,000 while the lemon groves brought in more than one-half million dollars. Both these fruits from Orange county are represented at the exposition. Through the efforts of the Orange County Commissioners thousands of boxes of golden oranges have been sent to the display and hundreds of crates of lemons have helped to demonstrate to the eastern tourists that California is the land of opportunity.

Corn, sweet potatoes, sugar beets, beans, celery and in fact all vegetables common to the semi-tropical and temperate zones are raised in Orange county and are being shown by that county in her display. Eight per cent of the chile pepper of the United States is grown in Orange county and the same county annually raises beans to the value of $2,000,000.

The walnut crop are approximately $200,000 per year, while Orange county annually exports more than 1000 cars of celery.

In point of wealth there is hardly an industry in the county that is greater than the oil industry. This year's output will reach more than the $8,000,000 mark and new wells are being added each month. The raising of sugar beets and the manufacture of sugar is one of the county's leading industries. The sugar beet acreage exceeds 35,000 acres. The sugar and oil display at the exposition is contributed largely by Orange county.

The deciduous fruits of Orange county include peaches, pears, apricots, apples, grapes, figs and berries of all kinds. These crops are well represented in Orange county's display by a collection of jars containing wonderfully processed fruits.

In the attractive motion picture theater of the Southern California display are shown a number of carefully selected motion picture films depicting the industrial and educational life of the county. The showing of the films is attended by lectures delivered by experts and has been one of the main factors in attracting the interest of the investor.

Two stories to three stories, will be half that amount. Both are handsome piles of brick and concrete, and reflect great credit upon the enterprise of those who have caused their construction.

BUENA PARK'S BEAN CROP TO BE IMMENSE

Anaheim Plain Dealer: There will be a large bean crop on the mesa this year in the Buena Park district. The estimated acreage is between 1000 and 1200. One grower alone, C. L. McComber, has over 300 acres in beans. A Nelson, Buena Park shipper, marketed twenty-five carloads of beans last year, and it is said he will ship at least forty cars this year. The crop is mostly of the black-eye variety, which the growers sell at about 3 1/2 cents a pound, at a good profit.

ADDS TO PLANT

Anaheim Plain Dealer—The Union Oil Company is adding another unit to its distributing plant on South Philadelphia street, the cost of which will be about $500.

BUYS HOUSE AND LOT

Orange News—Theodore Starkey, a recent arrival from Kansas, has purchased a house and lot on South Orange street from J. C. Peterson and will soon move his family to the place.

RANKIN RESIDENCE TO BE REMODELED, COST OF $2600

Work of remodeling the J. H. Rankin residence at 815 Spurgeon street will be begun the first of next week by Contractor C. M. Jordan. Plans for the improvement, which is to cost $2600, have been prepared by Architects Eley and Hawley and call for the building of a large sun parlor and a large front porch. Two parlors, also on the lower floor, will be converted into one large living room. The first floor will be finished in old ivory enamel, with birch mahogany doors. A sleeping porch will be added to the second floor.

SANTA ANA MAN BUYS GROVE AT ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, June 18.—E. A. Day has sold his ten acres of Valencia oranges on South East street to J. H. Chamberlain of Santa Ana for the sum of $12,500. Mr. Day found that his fine home place on Placentia avenue demanded more of his time than was possible to give if he kept the grove on East street, and so sold the latter.

It is ten acres of four-year-old Valencia and they certainly look fine. They have been given good care and show it by their regular and uniform growth. The ranch is a desirable one and on account of its close-in location is bound to be in demand by persons looking for a home. Mr. Chamberlain will erect some fine buildings on the place and make his home there.

EFFECT OF THE WAR ON BUSINESS IN U. S.

In its monthly letter reviewing conditions in business the American National Bank of San Francisco says: "No matter how hard business strives to disregard the effect of the war, its influence is farther reaching than most of us care to admit. The appalling magnitude of the conflict suffices to intimidate the strongest, regardless of otherwise excellent underlying conditions. With fine crop indications, good markets, credit balances piling up abroad and an extremely easy money situation in financial centers, it would seem that the country, as a whole, should be as prosperous as at any time in its history. And this might be the case if it were possible to overcome the purely mental hazards conjured up by business men, capitalists and bankers whenever approached by anyone seeking funds for capital investment.

"San Francisco bank clearings for the first four months of 1915 show a slight increase over the same period last year. The figures for 1915 are $327,829,000 compared with $324,811,000. These are not the totals generally published but are the daily debit balances of the clearing house which are settled in drafts on San Francisco banks. While these drafts are cleared through the San Francisco Clearing House, to include them in San Francisco's credit is manifestly wrong, if such figures are in use in determining business and financial activities of the city. We might go further, and say that the clearing house figures of several Eastern cities would not be published as they are, for the fact that it is their common practice to settle balances with cashier's checks, which are cleared the following day, increasing clearing totals for the month considerably. Clearing house figures at best are of value only when used comparatively and with due allowance for the increase or decrease of the number of banks over the preceding period. A rough index is found in a compilation of the total debits of individual banks, taken from their own books, as these figures include all transactions, whether passing through the clearing house or over the counters. Total debits of San Francisco Clearing House banks for the first four months of 1914 and 1915 are as follows: 1914, $1,770,515,000.00; 1915, $1,761,183,000.00 showing that only 47 per cent of the business of the banks passes through the Clearing House.

"The announcement that the Federal Reserve Board has decided to permit the entrance of State banks into the Reserve system, with the privilege of withdrawing under certain conditions, has not met with the unfavorable comment that such a move would surely have brought forth when the law first went into effect. While the fact that it appears unfair to allow low State banks any greater latitude than their National competitors, it is now realized by all that the ultimate success of the system is predicated upon their granted there was little prospect of inducing the majority to enter. The Board's decision, however, will probably cause a falling off in applications for National charters, as their advantages from an advertising viewpoint will be somewhat nullified.

"The present high price of copper is bringing to life all sorts and conditions of low-grade mining properties in California, Nevada and Arizona, which have been lying fallow for years. Several mines are being opened up which cannot be worked at a profit with copper below sixteen cents, and there is an enthusiastic scramble to help in the grand scheme of exploiting the benighted belligerents of Europe by furnishing them all the copper

New Markets in South America

(From L. A. Financial News.)

Spreading the information that now is the opportune time for opening up new markets in South America Dr. Edward E. Pratt, chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, who is making a tour of the United States, addressed the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on his visit here this week. He spoke in part as follows:

"This is undoubtedly an excellent time for opening up new markets in South America, but there should be being placed a tour of the United States, who is making a tour of the United States, addressed the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on his visit here this week. He spoke in part as follows:

"This country is piling up a favorable balance of about $5,000,000 per month. These sums that are being placed to our credit abroad are being used to pay off our indebtedness and are the best evidence of the reversal of conditions, and entering upon a creditor period in her history is the fact that within the last few months tremendous quantities of gold have been sent here to pay off their indebtedness to the United States. It must not be supposed that our obligations will be paid in a single month or year. As a matter of fact we probably owe not far from six billion dollars to Europe, and even at the present rate we would be unable to fully discharge our obligations within six years. Nor is it desirable that we should. It is more desirable that European capital should remain invested in the United States at comparative low rates of interest and that an era of capital should go out to seek new fields for investment where the rates of interest and the returns are relatively higher.

"The experience after previous wars. The rates leaped into unparalleled zones in all instances when wars of the past two centuries. Day by day the nations of Europe are destroying millions upon millions which otherwise would be used in making roads and financing railroads. Not only that, but property is being destroyed, buildings razed, factories demolished. Upon cessation of hostilities there will inevitably be a tremendous demand for liquid capital. True, the people are hoarding, but the hoardings of Europe and others who have lain idle. It is scarcely possible to argue from past wars as to the results of this war. In mere size, to say nothing of the actual effective number of workers being decreased, but the efficiency of labor as a whole will be considerably lowered. It will be impossible to reorganize the factories for years to come as an efficient basis as the past. Thus the labor cost in production will be considerably raised.

"Already extraordinary measures are being employed to raise the sinews of war. In addition to the war loans, which are estimated at about $6,000,000,000, other measures have been adopted. England has doubled her income tax, which in now amounts to as much as 6 per cent in some cases. Germany has increased her capital tax and has even issued treasury notes on security of personal property and jewelry. France has increased the authorized limit of bank notes and is raising taxes of back-breaking taxation for many years to come; these loans must be paid and it is the people who pay them back in the end.

"The inference from all this seems to be that the costs of production in Europe cannot possibly be lowered and are quite likely to be considerably raised. If this is the result the European level of costs and prices will move nearly approximate our own than ever before. It will also mean that the American manufacturer will be able to compete with European manufacturers on more favorable terms than ever before.

TRADE BALANCES OIL COMPANIES SHOW GAINS IN U. S. EXPORT

(From L. A. Financial News.)

Comparing United States trade with the low point reached in America last year, exports from the United States increased 166.8 per cent. These figures are given out by the Department of Commerce. The statistics show that in April, 1915, imports totaled $169,576,106, against $173,762,114 in April last year and $146,194,463 in April, 1913. April exports rose $94,556,761 above the best record made in any year of earlier years, being $294,470,199, against $162,552,470 in April, 1914, and $199,813,438 in April, 1913. Of the April, 1915, imports, 65.5 per cent entered free of duty, compared with 62 per cent in April, 1914, and 52.6 per cent in April, 1913.

Comparing imports and exports during the ten months ending with April of the years named, imports have fallen from $1,572,114,692 in 1914 to $1,374,189,149 in 1915, a decrease of $197,925,543, or 12.6 per cent, while exports have risen from $2,045,774,455 to $2,255,548,068, an increase of $179,773,613, or 8.8 per cent.

The figures for the ten months ending April 30, 1915, show a favorable balance on merchandise transactions in excess of $851,000,000. If to this be added the known excesses of exports over imports for the three weeks of May, closing with the 23d, the net favorable trade balance thus far during the fiscal year is well in excess of $900,000,000, and it is probable that the export balance for the fiscal year ending June 30 next will exceed $1,000,000,000. These are facts unprecedented in our commercial history.

The extent to which the war in Europe has affected the commerce of the United States is shown in statistics compiled by the Trend of the Times, the figures covering the period for the nine months ended March 31 of this fiscal year. Says the Trend of the Times:

"Exports for the nine months were 13 per cent greater than the corresponding period in 1914; whereas the increase in March last was 81 per cent above the previous March. The effectiveness of England's obstructive tactics is seen in the drop of exports to Germany and Austria for nine months from $308,418,096 in 1914, to $30,079,558 the last nine months, although goods percolated into Germany and Austria through the neighboring neutral countries, exports to European countries other than the belligerents, have risen from $255,760,187, in 1914, to $473,462,624. The allies purchased from the United States in the nine months goods valued at $867,563,534, compared with $644,961,736 in the year previous. The Teutonic entente dropped from $308,418,096 in 1914 to $20,079,558 in 1915. Countries surrounding Teutonic allies bought from us in the nine months $402,156,814, compared with $172,988,544 in 1914. April, 1915, imports of gold aggregated $16,203,028, against $4,460,421 in April last year, while April exports of gold were $813,706, compared with $407,386 in April, 1914. The nine months ending with April of the current year showed an export balance of $4,603,902, a fact wholly due to the large excess of exports over imports of gold in the period from July to November. Those months showed an aggregate export balance of $116,000,000, while the succeeding months to April 30 showed an import balance of $62,000,000 in the movement of gold.

Pains and Aches Caused by Kidneys

Many women attribute ailments and suffering to some disease peculiar to their sex, when often the pain and misery is caused by weak or deranged kidneys. Household office work or factory work may start the trouble, and dizzy spells, puffiness under eyes, sore muscles, stiff joints, discolored or scanty urine, sleep disturbing bladder ailments, rheumatism or diabetes may result.

When the kidneys are strong and healthy they filter out from the blood the poisonous waste matter. When they are sluggish or overworked they need a medicine to clean them out and invigorate action. Foley Kidney Pills are prepared expressly for the purpose of dissolving all poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles and cleanse and strengthen stopped-up, inactive kidneys. Thousands of men and women in all parts of the world testify to the wonderfully satisfactory results they have had from taking Foley Kidney Pills.

Facts About California

(From L. A. Financial News.)

Citrus Industry
 Citrus fruit growers about Porterville are perfecting arrangements for the organization of a clearing house to control fruit market by securing better marketing facilities. This is due to the fact that there is a strong movement on the part of the present time among bankers of east side towns, in Tulare County, and, in fact, all the bank officials who are affiliated with the San Joaquin Valley Association, to restrict in the future loans on orange orchards strictly to such owners as ship their fruit through a co-operative marketing agency. It is declared that competition among the various selling agencies has progressed to the point that the early markets have become extremely uncertain and there is a tendency in some quarters to regard loans on orchards, the owners of which are shipping through private agencies, as somewhat questionable security.

In addition to the extraction of orange juice by a company at Riverdale, the extraction of grape juice is also being carried out. The juice is extracted from the orange and grape fruit under a vacuum and as a result is not allowed to become exposed to the air, which would cause the juice to oxidize or ferment.

Three car loads of oranges were shipped from Monrovia district to Halifax, Nova Scotia, probably the longest railroad journey for California oranges. The oranges taken the distance exceeding 4000 miles. More oranges have been shipped from this coast to Canada this month than ever before.

Last year twenty-five boxes of No. 1 pears were picked from the tree, netting practically $2 per box.

Groves of peaches in the Fresno district have advised the Merchants Association of their determination not to pick their 1915 crop unless some means is found of disposing of the surplus oil crop. The peach men figure that the cost of handling the new crop will be just loss account if they fail to sell the fruit on hand.

Horticultural experts estimate that in Kings County the prune crop is 90 per cent of normal; peaches will run 10 per cent above normal; grapes will be a 100 per cent crop, and apricots will average about 20 per cent above a normal crop. A delegation to go to Washington will be chosen later.

Stock and Dairy Interests
 Were it not for the exportation of California butter due to the European war, dairymen of this state would receive a much lower price for butter fat than at present, according to J. R. Murphy, manager of the Dairy Exchange, Glenn County. Last month 500,000 pounds of butter were shipped to Australia.
